Women Who Work Hard.

More than half of the several hundred people taking the course at Lowell institute under Harvard professors, says a Boston paper, are women, and these courses require an attendance three times a week. And wherever one goes the same thing is true, only as a general thing the proportion of women in such classes would be greater than one-half. This does not look as though women were wasting all their energies in the "debauch of whist." Many women play whist and bridge but it is generally those who want mental occupation that entails little solid brain work. The majority of bridge players prefer men partners, so that one sex spends as much time as the other over cards.

In the recently published biography of Col. Fred Burnaby there is a characteristic story told by his friend, Lord Binning, of that soldier of Herculean frame and reckless courage: We were engaged in a football match on the green inside Windsor cavalry barracks, and the verandas were crowded with onlookers as the colonel, dressed for London in frock coat and tall hat, with a cigar in his mouth, came out of the officers' quarters and proceeded slowly across a corner of the ground, apparently oblivious of the fact that a match was in progress at the time. At this moment our fullback, a gigantic Yorkshireman, named Bates, who must have weighed nearer 15 than 14 stone, charging impetuball, dashed full int Burnaby. The impact was terrific, but while the Tyke, hurled backward by the shock, as though he had collided with a mountain, lay gasping on the ground, neither Burnaby's hat not the angle of his cigar was in the smallest degree disturbed-in fact he scarcely seemed to realize that a collision had taken place. When he did so he removed his cigar from his mouth, and with his pleasant smile, said: "Dear me, I hope I am not interfering with the game." The shout of delight which went up from the

Not Calve's, But Calves.

That butcher shops are the places for startling revelations of various sorts was illustrated the other day when a passerby, glancing in at the window of one of them, saw two surprising exhibits. One was a tray containing brains; the other was a very fine liver. On the first was placed a placard neatly lettered by hand; on the second was another; One read: "Calve's brains;" the other "Calve's liver." There was no spacing between the last two letters of the first word in either case, and the possessive mark was over the letter "e."

But the shock soon passed when the butcher assured the passerby he had no desire to convey the impression that the famous French singer had Chicago, June 1.—A circular issued by the superintendent of the Shasta division of the Southern Pacific road discloses that one of the sons of Jul-ius Kruttschnitt, director of operation and maintenance of the Harriman sys tem, is trying to work his way up from the bottom without the "pull," which might be exerted in his behalf. It an nounces that T. H. Kruttschnitt has been appointed assistant roadmaste of the Siskiyou district of the Shasta division of the Southern Pacific, with headquarters at Weed, Calif. The circular was the first intimation the elder Kruttschnitt had of his son's appointment. The headquarters referred to is a lumber town in the heart of the Siskiyou mountains.

The position which young Krutt-schnitt, who is a Yale graduate, has accepted, is so humble that, hereto fore, none but track laborers have aspired to it. His duties will be bossing a gang made up of Greeks, Italians and possibly Japanese. By doing this rough work, he hopes to se cure a practical knowledge of track construction, after which, it is understood, he is going to apply for admission to the students' course of the Southern Pacific, which requires forty-two months of strenuous work, including braking on a freight train.

REQUISITES FOR THE MINISTRY Pastor Must Carry Earth's Freshness

to Do Effective Work. A minister in these indoor days needs all the open air he can beg, borrow or buy. Consider a moment Through the week his privilege will call him into close and curtained sick rooms-sick rooms of the soul, most of them; he can never go, to any good purpose, unless all the clear winds of heaven and health are buttoned freely under his coat. He shall have daily to move among persons whose skies are perpetually overcast and gray, whose irritabilities act upon their friends like a fine, drizzling rain in November; he must somewhere have observed more sunshine than will ripen a thousand strawberries, and an evenness of temper that earthquakes cannot shake. Time and again he will have to work with people whose outlook is narrow and their horizon short; he must somehow have gotten a vision of distance-of far prospects and wide adventures; he must have climbed a hill with a friend that challenges, he must have driven a canoe through smoking rapids, he must have galloped a young horse across green meadows .- H. Origin of Names of Breeds. Spaniels were so called because the original breed of this type came from Spain. The Blenheim spaniel got his name from Blenheim palace, where this dog first gained popularity in the time of the great duke of Marlborough. In the same way the King Charles spaniel owes its name to the merry monarch. Fox terriers did not gain their names from a likeness to the fox, but from the fact that formerly they were used in hunting foxes. Many years ago they were sent by their masters down the fox's burrow to draw and kill their quarry. It was in those days a saying that a good fox terrier never came out of a burrow without the fox. He either brought out his prey dead or never came out alive himself.

EXTOLS LIFE IN THE COUNTRY.

Suburbanite Corrects Misapprehension of the City Dweller.

"One of the great blessings of living in the country is that we can see the sky and the moon and the stars and the sunset," said a woman at a social gathering in the New Century club the other day, according to the Philadelphia Record. She lives in a beautiful country place in the Chelton hills all the year round. "We have had some wonderful sunsets in the past few weeks," she continued. "I have known friends to spend afternoons in art galleries looking at pictures when they might have been out in the country watching a far more beautiful sky painting by the hand of Nature. Then you who live in the city never see the stars at all in the city's glare of electric lights. Neither do you have the interesting occupation of watching the sky and anticipating weather changes by the clouds. I know that most city residents think the country a dreary, uninteresting waste in the winter time, but we suburbanites don't consider it that way. The earth is rather bleal when it isn't covered by a white mantle of snow, but the winter sky always presents an interesting if not fascinating study, and seldom a day goes by that we don't have a charming sunrise or sunset."

A Statesman's Discretion. If discretion is a virtue on the part of the average man it is a positive necessity with emperors and statesmen. This truth was realized by Gladeer. Shortly after his marriage he said to his wife: "Shall I tell you nothing, and you can say everything? Or shall I tell you everything, and you say nothing?" She chose the latter alternative, like a woman, and like a wise woman rigidly adhered to her part of the bargain.

LINCOLN UNVEILED

The ceremonies were simple. Mrs. Ben Hardin Helm of Louisville, a close relative of Mrs. Lincoln, pulled he cord that dropped the drapery and showed the martyred president sitting in a chair, his face bearing the old, careworn, kindly expression fami-liar to the people of the entire world.

ONE THOUSAND NEW YORK LIFE AGENTS RESIGN

New York, May 31.—One thosaud gents of the New York Life Insurance company formerly erminated their service with that corporation today. According to the compersists today. According to the com-pany's officers, they were dropped because of the state law which pro-hibits a life insurance company from writing more than $150,000,000 of new insurance in a single year.

The Wise Wife-Chooser. W. T. Turner, the Lusitania's new captain, has for motto: "To get to port safe is to get there soon." said in New York the other day:

"To be quick, to be prompt-that is the secret of success in sailoring, in life, and in matrimony. "At a Christmas dinner aboard my old ship, the Caronia, the lady on my

"'Madam,' said I, 'a good way to pick out a wife is to choose the woman whose dinners. Christmas or otherwise, are never behind time.'

Rare Fulgurites on Exhibition. An interesting and valuable collection of fulgarites has recently been mounted and placed on exhibition in the Geological museum in Nassau hall It comprises four specimens of the rare glassy tubes produced by lightning striking in sand or other loose material which fuses along the path of the current to form a natural glass. The tubes are frequently quite irregular in their course and often branch downward. Outside they are rough, more or less ridged and studded with adhering sand grains, while the inside is quite smooth and glassy from the perfect melting of the sand.

Wiedom of Danoing Masters. The dancing masters should be proud of themselves, and no envious arrow of disdwin, such as the provincial bellef that they have no brains can ever reach them now. They said: If the skirts are so tight that ladies cannot take long steps, let them take short opes. And thereupon it was decreed that waltzes, polkus, two-steps, Mondelssohn spring songs Salome slides, figs, rigadoons, liebspiels and all such should be danced with shorter steps until such time as fashion shall permit ladies to recover the free use of their -, but why go further? The dancing masters have established their reputation by their saplentiseinic
